

At a town meeting held in Waterford, recently, it was almost unanimously voted not to sell the town farm.

Mrs. Levina Denison, of Mystic, kept Thanksgiving, rejoicing in the presence of forty-eight of her immediate descendants.

The house of James Ivers, at Sterling Hill, was struck by lightning, recently, breaking out all the windows and killing a valuable dog.

The village of Mystic, so long the banner town of the State in temperance, now supports a dram shop regularly licensed under the new law, whereat the citizens wax wroth.

Captain William Wells, of Ashaway, (a village about twelve miles east of Stonington,) committed suicide, last Thursday by hanging from the limb of a tree near his home.

The Episcopal church at Mystic Bridge will receive in January next, from the Huntington bequest, the sum of $1,000 which amount is to be appropriated to the liquidation of the church debt.

A single pumpkin seed produced a vine in New Britain, this year, which produced forty-two large, sound pumpkins.

Morgan Case, of North Canton, is the executor of the will of his brother, the late Seymour N. Case, of Hartford, by which he receives in the neighborhood of $150,000.

Tuesday, St. James Episcopal church in Danbury was opened for public worship by Bishop Williams. The church is 62 feet by 115, is of granite, has a tower and side pinnacles in front, and is of early Gothic architecture.

Some thief, Thursday night, broke one of the panes of glass in the show-window of Mr. Edward Smith's gun and lock store in Bridgeport, and stole from the shelf under the window seven revolvers of different patents and several powder flasks, the whole being valued at $120.